

Woman finds wild wallaby enjoying a nap in her bed

A woman was shocked to find a wild wallaby enjoying a nap in her comfy double bed.

Larissa Hill, 48, who has been traveling around Australia with her family for three months, was enjoying some alone time at their caravan in Mataranka, Northern Territory, while her husband and son were out fishing, metro.co.uk wrote.

Larissa said: "We actually saw the wallaby the night before, but I didn't really think much of it."

"As I was coming out of the bathroom, I saw this wallaby laying on my bed, totally sprawled out."

"I got such a fright. I was totally frozen. I didn't know what to do."

"She looked straight up at me but didn't seem bothered at all. I burst out laughing."

The nurse said the mischievous marsupial must have followed her inside after she accidentally left the sliding door open "just a fraction" — and in a matter of seconds had brazenly hopped straight into Larissa's bed for a leisurely hour-long nap.

LARISSA HILL/CATERS NEWS

The mum said the wallaby was 'fussily tossing in the sheets' to find a comfortable spot, before enjoying a luxurious hour-long snooze on the double bed.

She said: "I just left her alone to see what she would do. I thought she would just be up there for a minute and then get down."

"But she began getting really comfortable. She was changing positions and finding the softest spot."

"She had a good nap for around an hour. I guess she was tired."

Her husband Les, 50, and 10-year-old Patrick were just as shocked as her when they returned home to find the unexpected guest in the bedroom.

Larissa added: "My husband and son came back, and they thought it was the funniest thing they'd ever seen. None of us really knew what to do.

"The wallaby eventually woke up, and just hopped out of the bed and left. It was like it was the most normal thing in the world."

"I didn't mind at all, as I adore animals. It was a really unique experience. You come across some funny things in the outback, and this kind of thing would only ever happen in Australia."

"I'll never forget it."

Boy picks trash to repay stolen sum

Published by lifewire.com

A nine-year-old boy began to pick trash to exchange for money during the National Day Golden Week holiday to pay back the 2,000 yuan ($290) he had stolen from his grandmother, the Kankan News reported.

The boy, named Hanghang, from Southwest China's Chongqing Municipality spent 2,000 yuan on in-app purchase of a mobile game. He secretly used her grandmother's WeChat Pay to pay for the purchase, Global Times reported.

He collected recyclable trash like carton for more than two weeks to earn money to pay back his grandmother.

"I'm really tired, but I will keep doing the work until I have returned the money. It may take me one year," he said.

"Until then, I won't spend anything on entertainment activities," he said.

"I won't make such mistakes again." Hanghang went to neighbors' houses to collect carton with his mother's help. They then carried the carton together to sell, according to the Kankan News.

Fiancé dumped over bad driving

Published by glamour.com

A Chinese woman has received lots of support on social media for dumping her fiancé after learning he had racked up over a dozen traffic tickets this year.

Her story went viral after her fiancé posted about the breakup on WeChat, in which he said the woman left him after discovering a record of 15 citations in his smartphone, according to ecns.cn.

While the fined fiancé argued the tickets were no big deal, they were a deal breaker for his would-be wife.

According to reports, her decision stemmed from a family friend who was left disabled by a traffic accident years ago.

Screenshots of their conversations show she also felt his reckless driving foreshadows further trouble for them down the road.

With wedding plans made and reception halls already booked, the man took to social media to seek out advice on winning back his fiancée's heart — only to find most people supported her decision.

"Your girlfriend loves you but she loves her life more. Since she failed to convince you, she has to escape from you," a commenter wrote.

GEORGI LICOVSKI/EPA in the Republic of Macedonia.

Children look at an installation of sunflowers inside a VW beetle at Skopje Art exhibition in the old Turkish Bazaar in

True or False Crossword

In this crossword there are two clues for each word. Can you work out which is true and which is false?

ACROSS

- Breathed in / Breathed out (7)
- Sluggish / Nimble (5)
- Wise / Foolish (7)
- Hackneyed / Original (5)
- Whispering / Shouting (7)
- Tight fitting / Loose fitting (5)
- Quiet / Loud (5)
- Smooth / Crumpled (7)
- Strong / Weak (5)
- Clear / Unclear (7)
- Friend / Foe (5)
- Sincere / Insincere (7)

DOWN

- Simpler / More difficult (6)
- Content / Discontent (5)
- Truth / Fib (3)
- Set free / Confine (6)
- Equivocal / Unequivocal (9)
- Disregards / Heeds (7)
- Engage / Discharge (6)
- Rationally / Irrationally (9)
- Enrage / Pacify (7)
- Elucidate / Perplex (6)
- Earlier / Later (6)
- Reliable / Unreliable (6)
- Two / Three (5)
- Man's title / Woman's title (3)

Yesterday's solution

Sudoku

Sudoku was inspired by the table devised by Iranian mathematician Khwarazmi. Fill 9x9 grid with digits so that each column, each row and each of the nine 3x3 sub-grids that compose the grid, contains all of the digits from 1 to 9.

		7		1				4
3							8	7
5				2	6
7							5
								1
		4						6
2		9		4	7			4
		7				8	9

3	5	6	2	8	1	6	7	4
4	1	7	5	3	9	6	8	2
6	8	2	9	7	4	5	3	1
1	9	3	7	9	2	4	5	8
8	7	4	3	6	5	2	1	9
2	6	9	1	4	8	3	6	7
9	3	1	9	6	2	7	8	5
7	7	2	8	4	5	6	1	9
4	5	6	9	8	1	3	7	2

